Other Project Activities:

It is NOT necessary to have something in each of the areas on the following pages. This section is broken down by category. List only things you did that pertain to this specific project. Projects have many different activities and you should keep record of all that you do.

List any talks that you gave or contests that you participated in that relate to your project.

Do not list demonstrations. A talk is not preplanned or prepared ahead of time. It is sharing specific information about your project to an individual or group of people, and outside the immediate family. Examples of contests are: shooting sports contests, livestock judging, consumer decision making, entomology, horticulture, wildlife, Favorite Foods, animal showmanship, barrel racing, western pleasure horse classes, etc. Do not duplicate information.

Level	Talk or contest related to your project	Where did you give/participate

List project meetings and practices that you attended.

Project activities such as project meetings or practices are with a project leader and/or other members in your project. Do not list every time you work on your project at home, i.e.; every time you run your goat, draw a picture, sew your article, target practice, etc.
